Dark Tides 2020-12-01 adopting a microhistory approach fair and unfair trials in the british isles 1800 1940 provides an in depth examination of the evolution of the modern justice system drawing upon criminal cases and trials from england scotland and ireland the book examines the errors procedural systems and the ways in which adverse influences of social and cultural forces impacted upon individual instances of justice the book investigates several case studies of both justice and injustice which prompted the development of forensic toxicology the implementation of state propaganda and an increased interest in press sensationalism one such case study considers the trial of william sheen who was prosecuted and later acquitted of the murder of his infant child at the old baily in 1827 an extraordinary miscarriage of justice that prompted outrage amongst the general public other case studies include trials for treason theft obscenity and blasphemy nash and kilday root each of these cases within their relevant historical cultural and political contexts highlighting changing attitudes to popular culture public criticism protest and activism as significant factors in the transformation of the criminal trial and the british judicial system as a whole drawing upon a wealth of primary sources including legal records newspaper articles and photographs this book provides a unique insight into the evolution of modern criminal justice in britain

Better Off Dead based in sociologist zygmunt bauman s theory of liquid modernity this volume describes and critiques key aspects and practices of liquid education education as market driven consumption short life span of useful knowledge overabundance of information through a systematic comparison with ancient greek paideia and medieval university education producing a sweeping analysis of the history and philosophy of education for the purpose of understanding current higher education positing a more holistic alternative model in which students are embedded in a learning community that is itself embedded in a larger society if liquid modernity has left a vacuum where according to bauman the pilot s cabin is empty this volume argues that no structure is better positioned to fill this vacuum than the university and outlines a renewed vision of social transformation through higher education
